Alt Benefit Consultants President to Participate in Annual HR & Employment Law Conference

Waco, Texas – May 5, 2008 – Following several months of presenting a nationwide speaking tour, Alt Benefit Consultants president Sharon Alt has returned to her native Texas to lend her knowledge to the Heart of Texas Chapter of the Society for Human Resource Management. The 2008 HR & Employment Law Conference will address the challenges facing human resource professionals today through a host of speakers representing various industries throughout the course of the event.

Educators, professionals, and industry experts from across the board are slated to speak at this year's two day event. Attendees will also have the opportunity to visit with vendors, network, and stay up-to-date with the latest trends or issues involving HR and employment law. Alt's presentation, entitled 'Consumer Driven Health Care—What Does it Really Mean?' is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. May 13.

"I'm honored to be invited to speak alongside so many other influential people," Sharon Alt said. "The comprehensive nature of this program, I believe, will greatly assist the HR professionals in attendance interested in learning new ways to contribute to the well being and happiness of their employees."

The HR & Employment Law Conference will be held May 13-14 at 4601 N. 19th Street in Waco, Texas. To make reservations or find more information about the event visit: www.wacohr.org or by call (254) 750-5738. In addition to her continuing education speaking, Sharon Alt is a contributing writer for Benefits Selling magazine.
